CRAZY HAT NIGHT

Thursday evening July 5 everyone was in top form as we gathered in the dining room to enjoy our "Crazy Hat Night." Everyone entered into this happy and entertaining dinner hour and indeed the hats created a definite holiday atmosphere. Our creations were made from materials found around the cabins and the Lime Kiln grounds. The judges had a very difficult time, but after much deliberation the following were declared as winners: Most unusual hat, Mr. Rogers; most original hat, Mrs. Blakely; best child's hat, Brian Strohm.

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

On Friday night after the evening meal, Silver cups were presented to the champions of the various tournaments which were held during the week. The competition was stiff in these games, consequently, the winners deserve a big "Congratulations."

In the Junior division Kathy Martin captured the Ping Pong title. Other winners were: Horseshoes, Alan Maddeford; Canasta, Kathy Martin; checkers, Kathy Martin.

In the senior division Bob Rogers could have used a wagon to carry home all the cups he won. These included Ping Pong, Horseshoes, and Tennis. In Bridge, the Martins were winners. Jean Maddeford succeeded in beating her husband in Canasta. In badminton, although Jack Strohm hated to admit it, he was defeated by his wife. In golf Axel Anderson was winner.

STUNT NIGHT

Our gala "Stunt Night", which everyone at the Lime Kiln looks forward to, was held in the Recreation Hall on Thursday evening July 5 at 8:30. All present were good sports and out to thoroughly enjoy themselves. Several contests were held, and the following were the fortunate winners: whistling contest, Mr. Irey and Mr Strohm; water drinking contest, Allan Maddeford and Brian Strohm; brain reflexes contest, Mr. Rogers and Allan Maddeford; telling the tale contest, Mr. Strohm and Mrs Strohm.

CHURCH SERVICES

Because of the inclement weather the church services which are usually held at McIntyre Square were held in the Recreation hall at the Lime Kiln Lodge. The services started at its usual time, 7:30.

Mary Shephard substituted very capably at the piano for her mother who sprained her ankle on Saturday.

The Rev. Charles James, Anglican minister from Tillsonburg conducted the services. This is the fourth consecutive year that Mr. James has given the first sermon of the year.

In the absence of Mr. Stanley Sanderson, the arrangements of the service was handled by Mr. Angus McKay. Mrs. Malcolm Parry and Mrs. Earl Rickey sang a duet.

SAVES DAY

During our "twister" of Sunday, July 8 perhaps one of the first thoughts entering some of our heads was, Oh dear, what will we get for our thoughts and realizing that we were at the Lime Kiln Lodge at Inverhuron, we knew that we had nothing to worry about that all would go well. Thanks to our excellent kitchen staff, and our trusty propane gas stove, a most delicious meal was ready and waiting for us when we entered the dining room.

ENJOY SING SONG

The opening Sing-Song of the season, which is the usual Sunday evening Sunday evening activity at the Lime Kiln, was conducted by Margot Ann Couch of Kincardine who is the hostess this year.

Margot Ann accompanied herself in leading the singing. Hymns taken from the universal hymn book is the type of music presented at these affairs.

POPULAR ADDITION

One of the newest and most popular additions at the Lime Kiln this year is the automatic washer and dryer. This great labour-saving device may be enjoyed by both the guests and the staff. To the person or persons responsible for this addition we say, "thanks a million."

PERSONALS

From early Saturday morning until late the same night, the Lime Kiln Lodge could quite easily be compared with a beehive . . . people rushing here, there and all over! While some were busy with parting greetings, others were busy meeting their future companions for their Lime Kiln stay. New arrivals at the Lodge include: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Haight and family, Stratford; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Brown and family, St. Catherines, Ont.; Miss E. H. Marsh, London, Ont.; Mr. H. W. Marsh, Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Purdy and family, Rossford, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Tom McMahan and family, Rossford, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. George Uhler and family, Rossford, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. T. Thornton and family, Monroe, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McMahan and family, Beaumont Drive, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Al. Buechel and family, Centre Line, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Storey and family, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. W. Johnston, Winona; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ferdig and family, Waterville, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McCully, Highland Pk., Michigan; Mrs. New and Stephen, London, Ontario.

On Saturday, there was much busting around as good-byes were said and last pictures of the Lime Kiln were taken, as the guests departed after spending an enjoyable week at the Lime Kiln. Those departing were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Rogers and family, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John Maddiford and family, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. H. Olsen and family, Birmingham, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dahlen and family, Detroit, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strohm and family, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Baltzerson and family, Birmingham, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irey and family, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe and family, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holder and family, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. A. Cooney, Toronto, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mogg and family, Toronto; Miss R. Bechtel and Miss B. Brown, London, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Poinier, Dearborn, Michigan.

LIME KILN, INVERHURON

On Sunday afternoon July 8 perhaps the first time for some of us, the Lime Kiln experienced a mild form of "twister". It proved to be a very interesting experience, and we were fortunate in that no serious damage was done in the immediate vicinity. However, one tree fell across the wires causing the power to be off and the telephone to be out of order for a time.

We noticed that several of the guests were interested in watching the happenings across the lake, and we do wish to thank you for accepting the storm so calmly and good-naturedly!

PRESENT CONCERT

Three waitresses and the "Handy Boy" who call themselves the "Potent Rodents" gave an impromptu concert on Sunday evening, July 8. This concert followed the Sing-Song which is the usual Sunday evening activity at the Lime Kiln Lodge. This group wish it to be known that they are not available for radio or television broadcasting. The group consists of Shirley Reid, Dale Cray, Liz McConnell and Ken McLennan.

There was no particular program planned which indicated that the audience wished to participate. Requests from the crowd made up the evening's entertainment.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

On Sunday, July 8, Joyce McGuigan, one of the members of the staff, celebrated her twentieth birthday. The staff gathered around the dining table to honour here with a birthday party which included ice cream and a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

Joyce received many cards and gifts including a game of "jacks" which the other members of the "dorm" are looking forward to playing, with great anticipation.
